Additional Information

The specifications included in the bid documents is currently in the review process by the California Division of the State Architect (DSA). Substantial changes are not expected. Once the review process has been completed, any required changes to the specifications will be handled either via addendum or the change order process described in the General Conditions section of the IFB, page 24.

Questions and Answers

Q: Will the bus shelters need to come with benches and solar lights? What is ECCTA looking for as a solar powered pole mount?

A: ECCTA will provide the bus shelters and amenities to be installed, including Waysine RTS solar powered poles and lights.

Q: Can a contractor with a Class A license bid on this project?

A: Yes. Class B is the minimum license required.

Q: Can ECCTA provide the location, details, and specifications for the solar powered pole mount?

A: ECCTA has purchased a Waysine RTS solar powered pole mount, which will be provided to the winning contractor. Information on the pole mounts, including the location, can be found on the site and grading plan enlargements on sheet C-104, construction note 10, and sheet C-105 construction notes 10 and 11.
